Technology and Third-Party Services Notice

Music Coast

Version: Current
Effective date: February 17, 2026

Audience: Users and Artists
Last updated: February 17, 2026

This document is intended to be posted on the Music Coast website and referenced from the Music Coast mobile apps and web app.
It summarizes key disclosures and disclaimers for the Service.

1. Scope

This Technology and Third-Party Services Notice applies to the Music Coast Service, including the musiccoast.com website, mobile apps (iOS/Android), and the Music Coast web app (when available).

2. Third-party services we may use

Music Coast may rely on third-party services to operate and improve the Service. Examples may include (not exhaustive):

- cloud hosting, content delivery networks (CDNs), and storage;

- analytics and performance monitoring;

- advertising partners and measurement providers;

- payment processors and subscription billing platforms (including Apple and Google for in-app purchases);

- email/newsletter tools and customer support tools;

- identity, security, and fraud-prevention services;

- verification providers (for example, Student/Military eligibility verification if offered).

Third-party providers may process data as described in our Privacy Policy and may have their own terms and privacy policies.

Technology and Third-Party Services Notice

3. Links and embedded content

Music Coast may include links to third-party websites or embedded content (for example, social media, video, or music-related embeds).

- We do not control third-party sites and are not responsible for their content or policies.

- Your use of third-party sites is at your own risk.

4. Availability and changes

The Service may change over time, and features may differ by platform (iOS, Android, web) or by country/region.

- We may add, remove, or update features (including offline listening, token features, or plan types).

- We may experience downtime or interruptions for maintenance, updates, or technical issues.

5. Contact

Questions about the Service can be directed to Music Coast Support via musiccoast.com.